Run 2120 - Numbats 1400th @ Leeming

Preamble:

Initially I was the sole representative of Bully Hash at the run, so I had to mix and talk with the great unwashed present. When 6:30 approached, run directions were given. There was a trail for walkers and another for the fit pricks (aka runners) and one for the fat and lazy turds (walkers). Chalk, arrows etc etc.

The Run:

After a short while I felt what I thought was a grass hopper crawling up my leg, only to realise that the perennial pesterer in the form of Orig had turned up and was trying to molest my leg. We spent the next 45 minutes wandering the back streets of Leeming including a drink stop with plenty of cold ales in ice buckets, to quench the thirst of the parched pack.

The Rundown:

To Nice the Numbats GM called the circle and let the assembled hordes know that the theme for the night was "Commando Style", hence the reason they were all dressed in camouflage shirts. Shorty was called into the centre as one of the original runners with the Numbats, having her first run at their 4th Run

Charges:

Fredders the Numbats RA, then proceeded to charge assorted Numbats for misdemeanours all of which they were no doubt guilty.

Song:

With the assistance of the three West Coast boys present the five of us plus Dickvan sang our song and in return we helped with the singing of their song.

Run 2121 - Frog @ Mullaloo

Preamble:

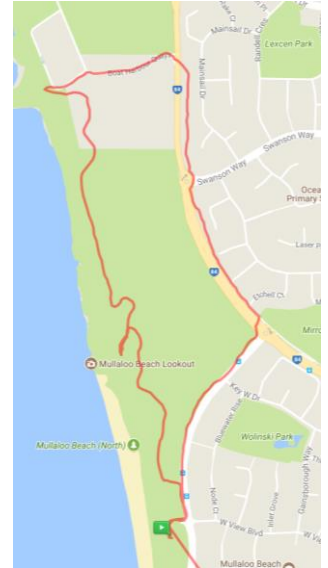

What a difference a week makes, eleven Hashmen turned up for this week's festivities. Maybe it had something to do with being north of the river? At the third stroke of 6:30pm precisely, the GM sounded the horn and called upon Frog to give the eager masses some instructions. On chalk and there is a drink stop.

The Run:

Out we went, ably lead by our runner in the form of Viagra, along the path and directly to the Mullaloo Beach Lookout, where the pack stopped for a refreshing port & lemonade and views of the Indian Ocean, the dog beach and Rottnest.

From the lookout the pack decamped in a northerly direction, following the pathway, to Boat Harbour Keys, onto Ocean Reef Road and home.

The Rundown:

The GM invited comments from the following

- Tampax – Easy walk, nice view, pleasant weather – 7.9
- Viagra - Good drink stop, enjoyed the lookout - 8.0
- Boydwunder Not bad, enjoyable – 8.0

Now it was time for the GM to pontificate and give a score. Frog had good intent when setting the run in that there should have been plenty of smoo and that he had intended to give the run a 9.0 but instead gave the run a 7.0

Charges:

At the last minute Vaigra was appointed as acting RA

RA – Blank Grumbling while on the run. Guilty, despite the accused protesting his innocence.

RA – Tampax Duke had a big shit on the run and the only piece of smoo seen on the whole run nearly trod on it

GM – Tampax Showing disrespect by reminding the GM of the order of proceedings
