Run 2136 – Orig @ Home in Padbury

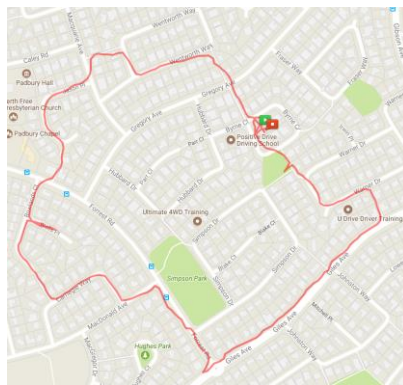

Preamble:

A normal turnout of 9 Hashmen and a dog for this evening merriments. Fitzall was absent, which could explain why the Perennial Pest was in attendance and dispensing advice to anyone that would listen and to the other 8 Hashmen that would not.

At the exactly 1030GMT the GM called the circle, bloo the horn and aske the Hare for direction. "It is all on chalk and it is not that long. The on is out the front to the left.

The Run

The weather was fine and the evening crisp. Around the streets of Padbury, with sufficient checks and a couple of false trails thrown in. The pack managed to not spread out to far and all made it home with out getting lost.

Distance 2.87km Duration 39:51

The Run Down:

As is the norm the GM called upon his subjects for their opinion, so he could ascertain the general feeling about the run, before ignoring them and giving his own score.

Tampax was the first request to give an opinion and score. "Not a bad run (not a good one either), lots of checks and not many false trails. Enjoyable none the less – 7.95"

The next to be asked was the Perennial Pessimist in the larges of Elvis. "Not bad for an old bloke and Blank is not here – 8.0"

The final opinion of the night was asked of Pyro. "The false trails and checks were a bit scarce, otherwise it was reasonable -7.0"

Now it was time for the GM to express his most exalted opinion. " I agree with Pyro about the lack of false trails and checks. None the less I enjoyed it – 7.0"
