Preamble:

Monday, Monday, so good to me
Monday mornin', it was all I hoped it would be
Oh Monday mornin', Monday mornin' could guarantee
That Monday evenin' Hash still be here

Monday, Monday, can trust that day
Monday, Monday, sometimes it just turns out that way
Oh Monday mornin' you gave me no warnin' of what the trail was to be
Oh Monday, Monday, how could you leave and not take me

Every other day, every other day
Every other day of the week is fine, yeah
But whenever Monday comes, but whenever Monday comes
A-you can find me callin' trail some of the time

Monday, Monday, so good to me
Monday mornin', it was all I hoped it would be
Oh Monday mornin', Monday mornin' could guarantee
That Monday evenin' Hash still be here

Every other day, every other day

Monday, Monday, it's here to stay
Oh Monday, Monday
Oh Monday, Monday

An excellent turnout of 9 Bully Hashmen for what in keeping with previous Melbourne Cup runs, promised to be a good night of merriment, comradeship and entertainment.

At 6:30 Simple advised the runners to leave and follow the trail marked in chalk and for the walkers to stay behind. After the runners departed, Simple gave a map of the run to Tampax, enabling the walkers to find a quicker way to the drink stop.

The Run

The runners departed, and the walkers followed shortly afterwards. Following trail, we proceeded in the general vicinity of the Mitchell Freeway, finding a few false trails and checks along the way. The walkers crossed over the freeway at the Leederville Train Station overpass and into the glittery heart of the cappuccino strip. Possibly due to a lack of funds or the promise of a better type of beverage to be consumed, no one stopped for coffee. With Tampax in charge of the map, the pack headed in the general direction of the drink stop. Latecomers Basil Brush and Nostrils intersected the pack at the intersection of Leederville Parade and Loftus St and Basil with typical hash politeness, pointed out to Tampax that his map reading abilities required some attention and proceeded to make sure no one missed the drink stop. With police cars passing close by as the pack waited for the pedestrian lights to allow us to cross, Basil decided that he did not wish to raise the ire of the constabulary and deftly hid the open stubby of beer he was consuming on a public street. After being escorted safely to the drink stop, we were offered a choice of wine for consumption. After thirsts had been slated, the walkers proceeded directly back to the bucket and cool refreshing ales. The runners returned approximately ten minutes later.

Walk Distance 2.29km Duration 44.02    Run Distance 7.22 Km Duration 54.09

The Run Down:

Lost decided that it was a good run, lots of checks and false trails, however due to the lack of checks and falsies on the way home, it was not capable of achieving a perfect score and awarded the run 9.74
